

Children's Rights & Entitlements

At Bierton Pre School we promote children's right to be strong, resilient and listened to.

We create an environment in our setting that encourages children to develop a positive self image, which includes their heritage arising from their ethnicity, their language spoken at home, their religious beliefs, cultural traditions and home backgrounds.

We encourage children to develop a sense of autonomy and independence.

We enable children to have the self-confidence and the vocabulary to resist inappropriate approaches.

We help children to establish and sustain positive relationships within their families, peers and other adults.

We work with parents to build their understanding of, and commitment to, the principles of safeguarding children.

To be strong means, to be:

- secure in their foremost attachment relationships, where they are loved and cared for by at least one person who can be relied upon, who is able to offer consistent, positive and unconditional love and care.
- safe and valued as individuals in their families and in relationships beyond the family, such as pre school.
- self assured and form a positive sense of themselves - including all aspects of their identity and heritage.
- included equally and belong in our setting and in community life.
- confident in abilities and proud of their achievements.
- progressing optimally in all aspects of their development and learning.
- part of a peer group in which to learn to negotiate, develop social skills and identify as global citizens respecting the rights of others in a diverse world.
- able to represent themselves and participate in aspects of service delivery that affects them, as well as aspects of key decisions that affect their lives.

To be resilient means, to:

- be sure of their self worth and dignity.
- be able to be assertive and state their needs effectively.
- be able to overcome difficulties and problems.
- be positive in their outlook on life.
- be able to cope with challenge and change.
- have a sense of justice towards themselves and others.
- develop a sense of responsibility towards themselves and others.
- be able to represent themselves and others in key decision making processes.

To be listened to means:

- adults who are close to children recognise their need and right to express and communicate their thoughts, feelings and ideas.
- adults who are close to children are able to tune in to their verbal, sign and body language in order to understand and interpret what is being expressed and communicated.
- adults who are close to children are able to respond appropriately and, when required, act upon their understanding of what children express and communicate.
- adults respect children's rights and facilitate children's participation and representation in imagination and child centred ways in all aspects of core services.
